IMA demands govt declare hospitals as 'protective zones'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE | by Kanna

TAKING a strong exception to the attitude of the government and the police department towards the hospitals and health workers that were attacked by anti-social elements and political workers, the Indian Medical Association has demanded the hospitals be declared as 'protective zones'. Dr Lalith Sundaram, IMA district chairman, reporters here on Wednesday, the recently held state executive meeting of IMA had condemned the attacks against health workers across the state and demanded action against the culprits.

"The government should be ready to provide enough protection for hospitals across the state. When anti-social elements attack hospitals, patients who need immediate medical attention get affected," said IMA North Zone vice-president Dr Surendra Babu.

"The police had failed to take effective action against the culprits in connection with the attacks against hospitals and doctors," said Dr Lalith. Over the past two years, more than 100 doctors, including lady doctors, were attacked across the district. In some cases police officials are involved too, and hence they fail to register cases. Even human rights commission and women's commission have not intervened when female doctors and nurses are attacked. Dr Sasidharan K (vice-chairman, action committee, Kerala), state working committee member Dr Zulfiquar Ali and Dr O T Rajesh participated in press conference.

The govt should provide enough protection for hospitals across the state. When anti-social elements attack hospitals, patients get affected.
